We have always seen different rules and trends for every Season when it comes to Makeup, but this year seems to really mix it up. Yes you heard correctly. All the beautiful options this year are not only countless but fit every young teenage girl going through her moms' makeup box, or the one who is sporty at home but beauty at work, all the way to the woman who has a business conference call at 7:30 in the morning every Monday and Friday. While grabbing our inspirations off of beautiful models walking the runway forgetting that majority are anywhere from 15-25. It's interesting how we want to sometimes live vicariously through another face. So for all of you makeup trend lovers live vicariously no longer. I am going to give you what every woman wants, the secret to the looks this Fall/Winter 2011-2012 for every Beauty.

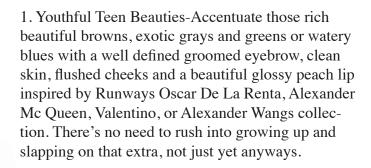

PRODUCT

- 1. MUD Lip glaze Cantaloupe $12
- 2. Aqua Eyes Eyeliner $18
- 3. NARS Pure Matte lipstick-Montego Bay $24
- 4. OCC Lip Tars NSFW/Vintage $13
- 5. Sephora Long-Lasting Eye Liner-Glitter Violet $10

MAKE UP

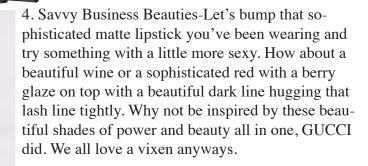

YOUR FACE

By Kristina-Monique

2. Gothic Sheik Beauties- We all know you love that dark mysterious look but let's play it up a little different this Fall/Winter with those rich shiny metallics that have hit Roberto Cavallis runway. Metallics aren't always colorful. For a little extra, let's have a dramatic lash added on to that.

3. Sporty Natural Beauties-Okay, we all know you like to do the whole natural beauty but why not play it up with a Retro inspiration of elegance like Ralph Laurens runway. A soft pink or rich sherbet orange with that petal soft texture will make you feel like a whole new you with just a dab of color.

5. Versatile Beauties- Mix it up and make your own. A metallic eye with a dramatic lash, and a vixen lip is definitely what will be happening this Fall/Winter for myself or a beautifully defined eyeliner with an edge in color. So if you are feeling like stepping out of the box connect with something new. We only live once.